Allowing cell phone use in flight is irresponsible and a bad idea.
I travel on business. I can wait until I land to speak with the outside world. When phones were first installed on airlines 90% of the calls I overheard were, "guess where I am calling from."

To allow cell phone use on planes is insane.